

Manager

Managers are pilots who are given special permits by the owner of an airline to be able to devote themselves to its management in the future. The owner can determine which these permits are. The area of responsibility can be, for example, that of a head of department or an authorized signatory.

Managers are added like pilots. By clicking on the “Edit Manager Settings” button, the area of responsibility of each manager can be precisely defined.

Managers do not receive automatic remuneration for their work. This can be arranged by the owner of the airline either by bank transfer or by other means.

If the Managing Director function is activated, all functions are activated at once and the manager is marked as Managing Director in the company overview.

Roughly speaking, the areas of responsibility can be divided into the following areas. Accordingly, the respective manager can also be assigned a function, for example, route manager or personnel manager, and so on.

Airline	This area is to be used very carefully, because whoever has a permission here can also cause a lot of damage.
Bank	Here you can define whether only evaluations can be made or whether the manager can also make transfers.
Aircraft	Aircraft can also be graded as to whether only inspection is possible or whether aircraft can be sold, processed or transferred. This way, all areas can also be partially unlocked.
Manager	permits as above.

routes	permits as above.
FBOs	permits as above.
